

The Booking system rules only permit athlete entry if first an accommodation option has been chosen. There is no way round this. You must book one of the accommodation options to compete

The options for accommodation (nights booked) also control the competition days for event entry so booking just one night will only enable one day of competition.

You can choose to use the entry system just for the team members who will be competing and book separately the accommodation for non competing members of your party. To book this through the event agency contact annarita.bonacina@orionskyglobal.com

Before booking accommodation and if travelling by air check flight availability and schedules

The Early Bird Team Entry fee has now been extended until 11.00pm next Monday evening 06/05/2019.

If you require camping or a mobile home you will need to email annarita.bonacina@orionskyglobal.com with dates and those who are in your party. She will then provide you with payment information, and once the payment has been made you will then receive the code for entering and registering the team on Organet.

When you book the accommodation it includes all that is outlined in light blue on the initial page of the official website and each athlete will also be given an additional accreditation for two non-competing people. This accreditation includes access to the event viewing areas and the local transport passes
